I'm a 23 year old mother of one and soon to be a mother of two... I have had TWO abortions and I have yet to overcome them emotionally... [Coming to Abort73.com] is the first time I have challenged the suggestion of abortion, the first time (regrettably) I have actually taken time to think about it before making a decision... This is ALL happening for a reason. Everything will fall into place... I am having this baby and no clinic is going to stop me.

Abort73 has given me a new perspective on the genocide that is taking place in America. I have referred friends to the site and even some pro-abortionists have been swayed when they see the physical results in the pictures and video. It is a relief that there are people who are doing their best to educate the public about this terrible tragedy, and I only wish the mainstream media would forget the politics and remember the truth. Thank you.

Words can hardly describe how thankful I have been for this web site. It has been the most effective tool for research and inspiration for the cause that I have come across. The education I received helped me to inform others during high school and has continued to help me as I pursue a future in creating awareness for others. Thank you!

On the university campus, abortion is a controversial topic that most people like to reserve for debate in government class, but that is not where it belongs. This is a sensitive issue that deserves much attention and that effects each person in our society. Abort73 and their gear opened up several opportunities for me on my college campus to begin discussions with people about what abortion really is and why it is wrong. By simply wearing a shirt, I had people approach me with questions and I actually had a place to direct them to find all the answers to their questions and much more. Abort73 gave me the tools and provided valuable resources to speak to people about an issue that is of great importance that people most often like to forget exists.

I find Abort73 to be valuable, particularly for teens and those in their twenties, because it presents all the facts without being condescending. It is really hard to find a reliable, site that I am actually excited about suggesting it to other people who ask me questions. I am a pro-life "activist", and wearing anti-abortion shirts at school and in public definitely gets me attention, and so when I am approached with people who don't believe me, I tell them to go onto Abort73. I particularly tell them to watch the videos, and that seems to have convinced a lot of people of the horrible crime that abortion is. I am so grateful that you have those videos online, because most teenagers, and people in general, need to see things for themselves to believe it. The site is also very aesthetically attractive, and easy to navigate, so I know exactly where I need to go in order to find all the information that I want. All the information has helped me to better support and defend my position on abortion, because now I know the straight facts. Thank you.

Abort 73 is a great resource in educating people about abortion because they address every issue that is brought up and answer it very well and back it up. They are also quick to replying any questions you might need answered.

The Website Abort73.com was there when I needed it as an excellent resource. I am the victim of a legalized abortion that occurred in 1973. I was 18 years old and I was not presented with an alternative or any medical information prior to the procedure. I wish Abort73.com had been available to me then. I regret my abortion.

Abort73.com is such an eye opening, truthful revelation towards the world we live in, and the sad reality of what we are faced with. Abort73 uses such a catchy title to engage peoples curiosity, and to open the mind of the uneducated on this subject. Being a member of the Pro-Life as well as Life Witness team at my High School I support this website 100%+, because the facts are real, the truth is real, and it takes the step into working towards the betterment of tomorrow, the future of our next generation, and caring in utmost respect for Gods wonderful creation. This website not only treads the path of truth, but it helps women who are unsure of what “abortion” really is, and the many alternatives that are available instead of destroying an innocent life. Abort73 IS the voice, for the voiceless unborn babies that are killed every second.

As I was searching the web for pro-life sites I stumbled over this one. I immediately bought some “gear” for my brothers, sisters, and friends. As a young adult I feel that this website has a lot to offer. It’s not always easy to have people in our age group listen to the long, boring, legal, and political speeches that come with pro-life advocacy, but this site, the t-shirts, pens and stickers, make it the choice of the individual to be educated in an easy to grasp format.

Abort73.com is not just for pro-lifers; it is a valuable resource that brings the information we all need to know right to our fingertips. The site systematically covers the debate ranging from its biological to its theological arguments, and much, much more. Abort73.com also boasts a crisp, dynamic layout that makes it easy to navigate and find the information you're looking for.

Abort73.com is a well-planned site with very valuable and concrete pro-life information. It is a great asset in refuting any anti-abortion claims and has a clear path toward transforming our culture of death into a culture of life. Of particular value is the 4-minute Quicktime video exposing abortion for what it is. Words can only do so much, but the video really drives it home.

Abort73.com is the most truthful, direct source for information about abortion you could get. There's no judgment, just the truth. I was so moved by this site that I immediately bought T-shirts for my teenage daughter, son and myself. It also provided me another opportunity to talk to them about what abortion is, how I was never educated on it as a youth, teenager, or young adult.

I was a lost and confused 15 year old... I thought I was pregnant and considered my options. Abortion seemed a fair enough option as no one would ever know (especially my parents). I saw my friend wearing a shirt that said "Abort73". I didn't ask her about it, but I was curious what it was about. Later when I got home I visited the site - after 5 minutes my jaw dropped and I realized just how horrible abortion was. Thank you abort73! I am convinced.

Abort73.com is a very productive site that shows and tells the TRUTH about abortion. It's everything Planned Parenthood DOESN'T want you to know. If you're ready to look abortion in the face for what it REALLY is, instead of buying into the cover-up choice antics, then you need to check out this site.

As a young woman, Abort73.com has been an amazing resource for me in affirming my own beliefs, learning more about the abortion issues, and also helping to educate others. I put a link to Abort73.com on my profile on an online friends network, and some of my friends have checked it out. It is extremely important for both pro-lifers and pro-choicers to truly understand the decision they are making and to know ALL the facts. I believe there is a lot that people like to cover up or ignore because it's either upsetting or shaking to their beliefs, but THAT'S WHAT WE NEED! It's not about shocking people (although abortion IS and SHOULD BE shocking!) but about equipping people with knowledge and the truth! The great thing about Abort73.com is although it's a religiously affiliated site, it doesn't preach or rattle off bible verses - it's something all people - Christian, Jew, Atheist or Agnostic - can learn from and use. I am so thankful for this site and hope that it continues to be a valuable resource for this important cause.

What an eye opening experience. I have always been pro-life. But until I saw the images and information on this web site, I never knew how urgent it really was to fight for the unborn. 4,000 babies are killed everyday! 4,000! More helpless babies are killed EVERYDAY in the United States than were killed in the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks. That puts it in a whole new perspective for me. I can't wait to receive my Abort73.com t-shirt. I will wear it with pride!

Abort73 is the most professional and well-packaged website entirely dedicated to the pro-life cause I have ever seen. Although I was already pro-life when I came to the website, I tend to be knowledgeable about political issues and yet I feel that I was able to learn a great deal from the site as it presented very intelligent arguments that I had not yet considered. I'd also like to mention that many pro-life sites tend to be overtly Christian which may cause non-Christians to tune out to what we have to say. I am a Christian, but I have found that the most effective way to make a Biblically based argument to non-believers is to put the issue into terms that they can understand rather than quoting Scripture. Abort73.com does a great job of this.

Abort73.com could play an important role in the abortion debate, reaching a younger generation that is web-savvy. It is a resource Word News -- <http://www.wordnews.org> -- will be turning to as part of its coverage of abortion issues.

Abort73 poses every possible argument for abortion and clearly, articulately, and educationally [puts] down every argument for abortion. That, besides the moving and emotional videos and pictures of aborted fetuses, [makes Abort73] far better than any other pro-life website. The support network, current law stance, and every other possible facet about abortion is clearly and strongly enhanced by Abort73.com. As a viewer of many right-wing blogs and websites I would say Abort73 is the best I've seen yet!!!

Abort73 is valuable to the culture of life in ways that are hard to describe. The website reaches people, especially young people; which is very important. The youth are the warriors and Abort73 knows that and teaches in ways that are cool for all ages...whether 15 or 100 years old, you could connect with their teachings and easy to navigate site.
